Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Hosea McKay found a pair of lady's black kid gloves on the street, Monday forenoon, and they are in our office collection of lost and found articles.

Walter L. Sanborn: "The motorist who ignores a 'stop' sign would be just as lawless in other respects if the occasion should arise."

Arthur H. Holman says, "I have more stock than I can winter, haven't room to tie it all up so want to put an ad. in the Intelligence Column and see if I can dispose of some of them, probably won't do any good, but thought I'd try." His ad. appears in the Intelligence Column with the price of the cows for sale. Read it.

A flock of seventy-five wild geese passed over Norway, Tuesday afternoon, according to Yersie, who counted thirty-five and estimated the remainder. They were in a flying formation of three triangles and carried along on the southeast side toward the west. He surmises the geese were south bound, but were blown off their course.

A strawberry plant with ripe fruit was brought to the office Friday forenoon by Helen Brydlyn Maki, aged 6. She came with her father, John Maki, and they live at the former Allen Cushman farm on Frost Hill. The plant was picked October 26, in the pasture, and Helen wanted her name in the paper for the discovery of her life. The movie here called especially to see the "Three Sisters" and Joe entertained to the best of her ability.

"Gee, but I was surprised," was her comment after the New York party vanished through the door of Beals Tavern.

Don Seitz: "Miss Elva Dorr called yesterday. She sailed today on the Spanish steamer, Magellan for a winter in Mexico, where she will be well fed up on oil and garlic and have the lively society of the Spanish fleet, who are of an especially vigorous breed. The campaign drags on with neither side making any points worth considering. The whole thing is a bit thick. The Democrats win because the other fellows have nothing to offer save the same old thing; if which we have had a great plenty."

Dear Sir: Most people seem to think that Socialism and Communism are one and the same. There is a fundamental difference which I would like to explain through the medium of your paper.

Both Socialists and Communists believe in the return of the world to a state of profit, through collective ownership of basic industries. (2) That production and distribution should be planned on a national scale to assure every worker of a job and a few shares of economic goods for his labor. So far we agree, but in the methods to be used in reaching this goal, we differ.

Communists believe that a violent Revolution is the only method by which this can be accomplished. They believe that a dictatorship will be necessary. They are organizing for this purpose. We Socialists on the other hand, believe that this end can be attained through non-violent methods. By that we mean education and democracy. We also prefer democratic methods to a dictatorship. We believe that violent methods would be likely to bring Fascism rather than collectivism.

Yours for co-operative commonwealth, Edwin A. Gammon, Sec. Party, Executive Committee, Socialist Party of Maine.

For the first time in nearly one hundred and forty years there is no tavern or hotel on Ricker Hill open to the public.

Round about 1794, Wentworth Ricker hung out the sign for the Mansion House on Ricker Hill and ever since then its doors had been open ungrudgingly to guests.

This winter the Mansion House is closed. Offices will be kept open at Ricker Inn, but it will receive no guests. The Poland Spring House is of course closed for winter as usual, being a summer hotel only.

Mrs. E. P. Ricker, widow of Edward P. Ricker, will pass the winter with her son, Edward P. Ricker, Jr., at 55 Carroll Street, Portland, where Mr. Ricker is to live this winter. James W. Ricker has taken the house of Charles Sumner Coe, on State street, Portland, and is living here with his family. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ricker will pass the winter in the South. Miss Jeannette and Miss Sarah Ricker will live in Boston this winter.

Hiram W. Ricker, Jr., is a resident of Auburn having bought a house some time ago on Gamage avenue. Mr. and Mrs. George Ricker and family will live in Boston and Hiram W. Ricker will pass the winter at her home on Ricker Hill.

Of course it is understood that the Mansion House, the Poland Spring House and other buildings at Ricker Hill will open as usual in the summer, that the bottling business goes on as usual and that all of the large general business of the company is transacted as usual on the hill.
